

ROBENS LEAF MEAL KITS BRING PRACTICAL STYLE TO THE TRAIL

Introducing a great new meal kit from technical outdoor brand, Robens. The 426g Leaf Meal Kit has been designed to provide everything needed for mealtime in a beautiful and appealing hexangular package makes it easy to fit into a backpack.

The smart 20cm x 18.3cm x 5.5cm BPA-free kit (pictured right) comes in a choice of three colours and hides a bowl, folding silicone cup, spoon and fork (pictured below left). The bamboo lid doubles as a strainer and cutting board and a connector is supplied to join the fork and spoon together for ease of use or used to extend the handle of each individual utensil for comfort. It also allows fork and spoon to be clipped cleanly to the side of the bowl between mouthfuls.

The design allows two kits to be packed together to save space and the option to include the new Leaf Pan (pictured right) in the nested package that is supplied with a stylish retaining band and storage bag. This light 208g hexagonal pan is made from high-quality hard-anodised alloy with a foldable handle to reduce weight and packed size. The pan provides the depth and width to enhance meal-time potential by adding a practical solution to preparing hot food on the trail – just add a light stove.
